Disability Advocates

The NH Disability and Health Program is working on a healthcare provider training for dentists and dental hygienists to teach them best practices for providing care to people with disabilities. We've heard that there was a gap in training for dentists so we're looking to fill the need.

We're working closely with a dental hygienist for clinical expertise, but we'd like to include disability advocates on the training development team, too. This would be a paid, temporary role.

If you are, or know of a disability advocate who may be interested in participating, please see the informational flyer below. Interested individuals can complete the interest form.
