The Moore Center to host home caregiver support and education event

Offered as part of agency's Kinship Program

MANCHESTER, N.H. – February 24, 2026 – The Moore Center will host an event for those providing care to family members at home on Wednesday, May 20, 2026, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Derryfield Country Club in Manchester. Through the agency's Kinship Program, the gathering is intended to provide information on important topics to help those managing home care for individuals who may have otherwise needed nursing home placement.

The Moore Center's Kinship Program allows families to be compensated for caring for a loved one at home. Individuals receiving care must qualify for Medicaid and the Choices for Independence program.

The Kinship event will feature expert speakers covering important topics such as understanding Alzheimer's and dementia, preventing caregiver burnout, and making the most of time with loved ones.

Attendees will also have opportunities to connect with others, learn early warning signs, gain self-care strategies, network with providers, and leave with valuable, practical information.

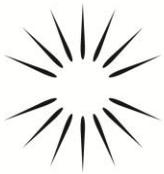

"Our Kinship Program helps families provide compassionate, high-quality care allowing loved ones to maintain independence in the home," said Michael W. Ames, PhD, president and chief executive officer at The Moore Center. "This event highlights our commitment to supporting these caregivers and recognizes the essential role they play in long-term care services."

There is no cost to attend and tickets include breakfast and lunch; however, spots are limited and registration is encouraged by April 30, 2026. To sign up, call 603-206-2719 or email kinship@moorecenter.org.
